

ARIZONA SENTINEL.

Yuma, Arizona

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 2, 1901.

Supervisor Meeden was on the sick list this week.

A nice line of Electric Belts at Cotter's Drug Store.

Try our instantaneous cough syrup; it never fails—at Cotter's Drug Store.

Standard novels in good cloth binding only twenty-five cents at Cotter's Drug Store.

Col. John Shanssey, proprietor of the "Old Plantation," made a flying visit to Gold Rock this week.

John Gandolfo came in on Sunday's train from California, where he passed Christmas with his family.

Mrs. F. Arthur of Tucson is visiting her son Chester for a few days. They are guests of Hotel Gandolfo.

Mrs. Kinsay of Bisbee, and Miss A. M. Rosch, teacher at Somerton, arrived at Hotel Gandolfo last evening.

Johnny Devine, proprietor of the Sun, visited the Potholes last week, where he has valuable mining interests.

Martin Pool arrived in town last Friday from Quitova, Sonora, where he is interested in mining property.

M. G. Tonini of San Francisco was a guest of Hotel Gandolfo this week. He was visiting his brother, the fruit merchant.

Geo. H. Miles has withdrawn from the race for city marshal. This leaves the field to Harry McPhaul and John Balse.

Mrs. Stinnette and children of California arrived at Hotel Gandolfo last evening. They will settle in the valley south of Yuma.

J. P. Conroy an attorney from Los Angeles was at Hotel Gandolfo several days this week attending to assessment work on his mines at Gila City.

W. J. Carlisle secretary of the Imperial canal company, came in Sunday night from Los Angeles, where he spent Christmas with his family.

Jas. Walters, a prominent mining man of San Bernardino, Cal., passed through Yuma Sunday night for Gila City, where he is interested in some mining property.

The new deputy collector of customs Chas. R. Hood, of Nogales, arrived in Yuma yesterday morning to take the place of Albert Behan, who has held the position for the last four years.

Matt Perry, a well-known mining man from Gila City, came in Monday to spend New Year's with his many friends. While here he laid in supplies for his camp. He returned home last night.

Hall Hanlon returned Sunday night from a visit to Los Angeles, the first time he had been there for twenty-eight years. He remained in Yuma and saw the old year out and the new year in.

The Elks' ball Monday night, was like all the Elks' entertainments, a great success; they danced the old year out and the new year in and didn't go home till the dawning of the new century.

The ball game yesterday between the Alerts and the Cracker Jacks resulted in the defeat of the Cracker Jacks by a score of 10 to 7. Batteries; Callahan and Harris for the Alerts, and Flood and Weber for the Cracker Jacks.

How Are Your Nerves? If you are easily "flustered," can't sleep and feel unrefreshed in the morning, your nerves are weak. Hood's Sarsaparilla makes the nerves strong by making the blood rich and pure.

Sick headache is cured by Hood's Pills.

James Milton, the plumber, was made happy this week by the return of his wife from an extended visit in the east. Mrs. Milton was glad to get back to enjoy Yuma's fine winter climate, and her many friends were pleased to greet her.

Supervisor Underhill came in Monday to attend the last meeting for the year of the board. Mr. Underhill had the honor of being re-elected for another term, evidence that his course for the past two years has the endorsement of the people.

George Winchester, of Los Angeles, Cal., while visiting with his daughter, Mrs. Samuel de Corse, in Yuma, died last Wednesday evening, of dropsy. He was 50 years old. The funeral was held Thursday morning from the de Corse residence.

The Sun last week contained a very creditable write up of the Colorado valley, and of the irrigating systems now nearing completion. (For this delayed mention, we apologize to our contemporary. The edition was a credit to the Sun management.)

John Connelly, died at his ranch west of Yuma on Saturday, Dec. 29 from paralysis. The first stroke he experienced was while on his way home from Yuma on Christmas day, and he never fully recovered, although under the treatment of Dr. Cotter he grew some better, but the recurring attacks became more intense, until he passed away. The deceased was 61 years of age, and an old and respected citizen. He was unmarried, and had no relatives in this section. The funeral took place on Sunday.

A Deep Mystery.

It is a mystery why women endure Backache, Headache, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Melancholy, Fainting and dizzy spells when thousands have proved that Electric Bitters will quickly cure such troubles. "I suffered for years with kidney trouble," writes Mrs. Phoebe Cherry, of Petersburg, La., "and a lame back pained me so I could not dress myself, but Electric Bitters wholly cured me, and, although 70 years old, I now am able to do all my housework." It overcomes constipation, improves appetite, gives perfect health. Only 50c at Cotter's Drug Store.

LOST ON THE DESERT.

W. L. Hopkins Goes Too Far From Camp—Has Not Been Seen Since Dec. 19.

The desert claims one more victim. On Thursday of last week the startling intelligence reached Yuma that W. L. Hopkins, one of the earliest of the California and Arizona pioneers, had been missing from Mesquite, a mining camp near Glamis, on the S. P. railroad, since December 19th, and had undoubtedly perished on the desert. The sad news was corroborated on Saturday by Joe Werninger, who arrived from Mesquite and furnished the following particulars of the old gentleman's disappearance:

Hopkins was doing some development work on some mining claims in the Mesquite district, and on the afternoon of the 19th he started to get a pail of water at a place known as the Red Cloud house. Some one noticed him hang his pail on the fence after reaching this house and go off toward some placer grounds a mile or so distant and he has not been seen since.

As the old gentleman was known to be thoroughly familiar with the country his going toward the placer grounds attracted no particular attention, but when the next morning the pail was still to be seen where he had left it the day before, his friends were naturally alarmed and at once organized searching parties and many miles of the wild and desolate region were traversed, but the missing man could not be found. His foot-prints were traced to the Chuckawala-Wala mountains and there disappeared. It was found where he had plunged through cacti, perhaps after becoming crazed from the terrors of his situation and was rushing wildly, he knew not where. It may be he wandered farther away than he thought, and darkness coming on, the old man got bewildered and lost his bearings—later his reason; then wandered blindly for days suffering the awful tortures of hunger and thirst until nature could stand no more, when he fell and the unyielding desert became his tomb.

W. L. Hopkins was born on Long Island in 1830. He came to San Francisco via Cape Horn in 1848, and in 1849 he carried the chain and assisted in the survey of the site upon which the city of Sacramento stands today. In the early period of gold discovery in California he engaged in mining at Bullard's Bar, on the south fork of the Yuba river, and later did an express business, carrying the mail and treasure between Downsville, Oroville and Marysville. Subsequently he was a trusted agent of the Wells-Fargo Express company and the California Stage company, during which period he was married, and lost his wife.

He came to Fort Yuma in 1866, and was in the employ of the government as clerk and book-keeper in the quartermaster's department for several years, and later filled the offices of county recorder and county treasurer. During Cleveland's first administration he was postmaster at Yuma. Of late years Mr. Hopkins has made his home two miles south of Yuma on a ranch in which he was interested with General Sumner. About a year ago he went to Mesquite, where he owned valuable mining interests in which he hoped to interest capital.

Mr. Hopkins had many friends in Arizona who will learn of his terrible fate with sorrow.

The Twentieth Century.

We now stand at the threshold of the twentieth century; the nineteenth is a thing of the past. It will, however, always be known as the century of invention and discovery, and among some of the greatest of these we can truthfully mention Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the celebrated remedy for all ailments arising from a disordered stomach, such as dyspepsia, indigestion, flatulency, constipation, nervousness and biliousness. It has been one of the greatest blessings to mankind during the past fifty years as a health-builder. Many prominent physicians prescribe and recommend it. Take their advice, try a bottle and be convinced, but be sure to get the genuine, with our Private Revenue Stamp over the neck of the bottle.

The Busy Little Steamer.

The little steambot Retta, Captain Frank Friant, went up the river Sunday with a load of merchandise destined for Picacho. The Retta will return by the 10th, when she will make a trip to the Gulf and the volcanic lakes with the following party on pleasure bent: Messrs. Frank Moynihan and George Briggs and four of their friends from the Needles. The party will spend a few days hunting and fishing, when they will return to Yuma, the little steamer having another engagement for the Gulf trip on the 20th, when pleasure-seekers, fifteen or twenty in number, from Los Angeles, Fresno and Yuma will take passage for the Lower Colorado and Gulf region, to stay perhaps twenty or thirty days.

A BRUTAL MURDER.

Hugh McGuire, a Miner, Stabbed to Death on Main Street.

A peculiarly atrocious murder was committed in Yuma last Saturday night, or early Sunday morning. Some time after midnight E. Kelley and C. F. Marshall, two young fellows from Los Angeles, went to Kinsler's lodging house to get a bed for the night. While waiting for the proprietor to open the door they heard groans, apparently of somebody in great distress, emanating from the cellar excavation just north of the lodging house, and they went closer to the hole to investigate. It being quite dark, they struck a match and its light disclosed a big, vicious-looking brute dragging a much smaller man around by the heels. One of the boys protested against his action, when the named man, who proved to be a miner named Thos. Cannon, rushed at him with a knife, threatening to kill him. Both of the boys moved away, but the light from the match had revealed blood on Cannon's hands and on the ground about the place, and realizing that something ought to be done, one of the boys employed a ruse to disarm suspicion of his intentions. He saw that Cannon was drunk, and asked him if he wouldn't like to have a drink. He replied that he would, and Kelley told Cannon that he would go and bring him one, to which Cannon assented, and the two boys at once started down the street to look for an officer. They notified some men at the Phoenix restaurant and the saloons and in a few minutes a crowd was at the scene. They found the man whom the boys had heard groaning to be Hugh McGuire, a miner, and he appeared to be suffering greatly. The Hotel Gandolfo hack was procured and the injured man lifted into it and taken to the hospital, where he died Sunday morning about 4 o'clock. There were several cuts on the body of McGuire, the fatal one being a terrible knife wound in the groin. No post mortem was held. Strangely enough, Cannon was not arrested until Sunday, although he is reported to have boasted in a saloon shortly after the injured man's removal to the hospital, that he had "fixed McGuire."

The evidence at the coroner's investigation on Monday was most conclusive and Cannon was committed on the charge of murder in the first degree. The preliminary trial, which followed on Wednesday, wound the coils tighter and Justice Reiff held Cannon without bail. The murder can be attributed to a combination of whisky and viciousness.

It Girdles The Globe.

The fame of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, as the best in the world, extends round the earth. It's the one perfect healer of cuts, corns, burns, Bruises; sores, Scalds, Boils, Cancers, Felons, Aches, Pains and all skin eruptions. Only infallible Pill cure. 25c a box at Cotter's drug store.

Nothing appeals to the feminine eye any quicker than the wardrobe and millinery worn by the ladies engaged on the stage. Many a weak spot in a performance has been smoothed over by a handsome gown. It is announced by the manager of "Have You Seen Smith" that one of the attractive features in connection with this highly successful farce-comedy is the costuming of the ladies. Each and every gown and dress was designed and the materials selected by a celebrated Parisian modiste, and sent to New York for construction. Some of the ladies make four or five complete changes of costume during the performance. In arranging the dresses for each act care was taken to blend the colors and present an even harmony of tone, which in itself is very commendable, as nothing jars a sensitive eye any more than a clashing of colors.

Shorey has just received a new line of Babson Health Foods.

MONDAY, JANUARY 7 GORTON'S MINSTRELS.

With an avalanche of burnt cork merrymakers are coming. It is a show that always pleases. This year there are many pleasing features that are new. Gorton's Minstrels are the cleanest, most interesting and prettiest minstrel show today in America. They have won golden opinions of the press throughout the whole country.

There is a laugh almost every minute during the splendid performance, and of the many features, music and song are in the lead. There is a magnificent new first part and an absence of boisterousness. Not a word is said to offend the most modest. The Crescent City Quartette will sing their harmonious songs, give all sorts of imitations, etc; the comedians will convulse you with their funny antics; the dancers will please you and you will be more than pleased with the music.

The notices accorded Gorton's are certainly of a most praiseworthy nature. This is a good show and will pack the house.

At Elks Hall Monday, January 7
Reserved seats $1. General admission 50cts.

Patterson--Robinson.

Married, at the residence of the bride's parents in Kopperl, Texas, on Tuesday, December 25, 1900, Mr. R. S. Patterson, of Yuma, Arizona, and Miss Lee Robinson, of Kopperl, Texas. Lieutenant Patterson until very recently lived in Safford, and has hosts of friends and well-wishers here. The bride is a niece of J. C. Robinson of this place and is also a sister of Mrs. J. F. Blackmore. Mrs. Lee visited friends and relatives in Safford the past summer, and was very popular with the young folks at this place. We extend congratulations and well wishes to the happy couple--Arizonian.

Mr. and Mrs. Patterson arrived in Yuma last week and have settled down to housekeeping in the Tyner residence on Orange avenue.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

"Have You Seen Smith?" one of the season's chief farce-comedy successes, will make its debut in this city shortly. The play is billed as "the farce-comedy surprise," and that it is a genuine novelty is the universal opinion of all who have witnessed it. In constructing the work the author is said to have departed entirely from the well-worn methods so long employed in the building of similar pieces, and the result is a production that unfailingly tickles the palates of all classes of theatre-goers. White-whiskered "gags," old-fashioned devices like trick stairs and siphon bottles, and all the rough and tumble concomitants of the average farce-comedy have been rigidly excluded, and in their place is found fresh, spontaneous humor, legitimate comedy situations, and a myriad of novel musical features.

Deputy Sheriffs Page, Richey and White landed six prisoners for the hill in Yuma last Thursday from Pima county.

Mr. Adam Ludy had a slight paralytic stroke last week, but is able to be up and around again.

There was a shooting affray at Castle Dome last night in which a Mexican was killed. The news just reached the sheriff's office this morning, and Sheriff Livingston started for Dome to get the murderer—provided he can be found.

Andrew S. and Misses Eva and Belle Mackenzie, brother and sisters of Mrs. Dr. Cotter, from San Jose, Cal., accompanied by Dr. H. C. Brown, a prominent physician of that place, were in Yuma Christmas day, guests of Dr. and Mrs. Cotter. They returned Saturday to their California home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Munro and daughter, Bessie, from San Jacinto, California, spent the holidays with friends and relatives in Yuma. Mrs. Munro is a sister of Mrs. R. P. H. Loney of this city, and is one of the editors of the San Jacinto Register.

Capt. C. E. Donaldson and wife arrived in Yuma Saturday to attend the funeral of their son-in-law, R. H. Baird. Capt. Donaldson is a veteran of two wars, and if the occasion should arise would still be able-bodied and with sufficient energy to take an active part in a third. Although over sixty, he has the appearance of a good deal younger man, and evidently has a long lease of life still before him.

New County Officers.

The new county officials took charge of their respective offices yesterday morning. Under the new regime the affairs of the county will be in charge of the following-named officers:

Gus Livingston, sheriff; M. B. DeVane, under sheriff.
D. L. DeVane, treasurer.
Con. Cronin, recorder.
Ab. Frank, probate judge.
W. F. Timmons, district attorney.
W. E. Marvin, surveyor.
J. C. De Witt, C. V. Meeden and Tom Underhill, supervisors.

Blown To Atoms.

The old idea that the body sometimes needs a powerful, drastic, purgative pill has been exploded; for Dr. King's New Life Pill, which are perfectly harmless, gently stimulate liver and bowels to expel poisonous matter, cleanse the system and absolutely cure Constipation and Sick Headache. Only 25c at Cotter's drug store.
